

April 14, 2011

Problems began for us after Hurricane Katrina. Our business was only closed for a few days, but when gas prices sky rocketed, so did all of our other expenses. So, we did the unthinkable, started using our credit cards. It was the only way we could keep our doors open. When things seemed to be getting better, the economy went south. We were unable to even make the minimum payments on our credit cards. Then the calls started. They were relentless – seven, eight, nine times a day. Of course, we were raised to do the right thing, own up to our responsibilities. I would answer the phone and explain our situation. I would tell them that we wanted to pay our debt and would as soon as we could. Being the understanding people they are, they would listen, make notes on our file, and call again....and again....and again. I felt like I was going crazy!

My daughter had seen an ad on television for this company called Corporate Turnaround. She said, "Mom you should at least call and talk to them, it could not hurt". So, I did. I immediately felt some relief. At least I was doing something! Adam was wonderful. He told me how to handle the calls and he went right to work for us. Before long, the calls came less and less and then stopped. We had accumulated $54,000 in debt and Corporate Turnaround saved us $32,000.

I cannot recommend Adam and his team strongly enough. They helped save our business and our sanity. Now when the phone rings, I know it is family or friends.

Thank you Adam and Corporate Turnaround!!!!

Sincerely,

Your company's results may vary. Every restructuring has a unique combination of issues and factors, including the length of participation in the program. All of these variables affect individual outcomes. There are no "typical" results. Until a debt is resolved, creditors may continue with their collection efforts, including phone calls and legal action. CT does not provide any legal services or legal advice. Debts may increase until a resolution is reached.
