To Whom It May Concern:

I wanted to take a few moments to share my success story with you regarding my experience with Corporate Turnaround.

To be clear, CT is the main reason that my company is still in business today.

In November of 2013, after relocating the company HQ to Los Angeles, CA, we suffered the loss of two major clients. The first contributed 90% of the company revenue and the second was a client we had been grooming for 18 months. The loss was traumatic and unfortunately came on top of an equally debilitating personal situation in my 2012 divorce.

The chips were down and I was a day away from hanging it up. Then I got a call from Scott [REDACTED] and everything changed from there. Scott and I worked hard to identify the total debt and the creditors. Then Scott introduced me to Adam [REDACTED] and we developed a reasonable budget that I could afford and manage.

The end result of our efforts – we eliminated over $50,000 in total debt within just 2 years. The costs were reasonable but the results were worth all the hard work and discipline. Today, my company is running smoothly and growing quickly. We have zero debt.

I learned a valuable lesson from all this – keep your debt low (or nonexistent) and have solid resources to lean into in good times and bad. Corporate Turnaround is one of those resources and I would recommend CT to anyone faced with a debt problem. I'm very appreciative of CT and I liked the people and the results.

Sincerely,

Your company's results may vary. Every restructuring has a unique combination of issues and factors, including the length of participation in the program. All of these variables affect individual outcomes. There are no "typical" results. There are no time limits for reaching settlements. Some creditors may settle after CT's first set of offers, and others may be resolved later on. Debts may increase until a resolution is reached. Settlement offers range from pennies on the dollar to payment in full. There is no guarantee of savings.
